RICHIEDI MAGGIORI INFORMAZIONI

Company located in Castilla La-Mancha (Spain), specialised in the manufacturing of wooden urns and reliquaries for ashes, and in the development of apps for funerals, is interested in establishing commercial agency and distribution services agreements in Europe in order to increase its presence and sales abroad. The company is responsible for every phase of the urns manufacturing process, which enables them to match all the client's requirements and create customised products.

The company, located in the centre of Spain, deals with the whole manufacturing of the urns and reliquaries under a rigorous quality procedure. A wide range of wooden urns and reliquaries can be offered, matching every client's requirement. The company has its own programming department which has patented an app where the beloved ones of the deceased can record a video to send condolences, buy and send natural flowers, send virtual hugs, music, videos, etc. Everything that is shared on the app is reflected in real time on the screens placed in the wake room, and later, a video is automatically made for the relatives in memory of the deceased (they can download it from the app). The owner of the funeral area just needs a TV/screen to display the videos/photos sent through the app. The company is looking for potential companies (specially from Europe) to reach commercial agency and distribution services agreements in order to increase its sales abroad. The company is committed to the environment, so the wood used for the manufacturing of the urns and reliquaries is FSC certified.
